On 28th October 2007, inside the SWITCH area of the Festival della Creatività in Florence, a great audience enjoyed the first interactive long form improvisation performance TANGerINE theatre.

The performance has been a success, the audience has played an active role in it and the actors of the cultural association Contaminazioni Teatrali made a very good job.

They have been inspired by the multimedia scenographies realized by some talented students of the Master in Multimedia Content Design (University of Florence): the audience's task was not only to enjoy the show, but even to switch through such scenographies during the performance using our TANGerINE Cube, guiding de facto the plot of the stories.

We hope we will be soon able to announce you the next TANGerINE Theatre performance.
